When disclosing:

- Read this Disclosure & COI Training Page, then click the checkbox at the bottom of the page to confirm that you’ve read it.

- On the Disclosure Details Page:
  - 1) answer the new organizational conflict of interest question,
  - 2) edit, update, and/or archive previous disclosures as needed, and
  - 3) add new outside activities, relationships, and interests.

- On the Attestation Page, attest and submit your disclosure in three steps:
  - 1) click the Attestation checkbox in the middle of the page,
  - 2) select “Yes” to indicate you’re ready to submit the disclosure, and
  - 3) click “Save” or “Finish” to submit.

- For additional information, see this video demonstration.

Disclosure & COI Training

The University of Michigan allows and encourages outside activities, relationships, and interests with companies and organizations external to the University that enhance the missions of the University (Regents Bylaw 5.12 and U-M Faculty Handbook section 9.E).

Why must I disclose outside activities, relationships, and interests?

Ensure the honesty and integrity of your U-M research and professional work by disclosing your outside activities, relationships, or interests (henceforth referred to as “outside activities”) in M-Inform. M-Inform offers a centralized, streamlined way to report outside activities to maintain transparency in your research.

Disclosure of outside activities is also an institutional requirement under U-M policy (SPG 201.65.1) and unit policy. For U-M researchers, it’s also required by the U-M Office of Research, the State of Michigan, and federal agencies (e.g., PHS, NIH, NSF) for sponsored research funding (COI Policies).

Unreported outside activities may impact both you and U-M by:

- Damaging reputations (professional and/or organizational)
- Introducing bias, or the appearance of bias, into your research
- Increasing the possibility that the results of the research will be questioned

- Losing the ability to conduct research through the suspension/termination of the existing projects and/or through the reduction/loss of future funding opportunities.

By disclosing outside activities in M-Inform, you will have done your part to assist in safeguarding research and to demonstrate compliance with U-M and sponsor regulations.

What outside activities, relationships, and interests do I need to disclose?

Report all paid and unpaid outside activities for you, your spouse, domestic partner, and/or dependent children (i.e., family members) with an outside entity/organization (including foreign institutions, governments, and companies) when:

- The outside activity relies on or utilizes the same expertise as your U-M teaching, research, clinical, and public service responsibilities;
- The outside activity is similar to your area of expertise, scholarship, employment; OR
- The outside activity has the potential to influence your U-M duties; OR
- The outside entity conducts business with U-M.

Even if your U-M appointment is less than full-time or less than 12 months, you are required to report all applicable activities outside your U-M appointment.

  - Activities or relationships that are not related to your U-M expertise
| Financial support (domestic or foreign) received by trainees in your lab (although foreign support may be required in Other Support reports to funding agencies) | Reviewer of books or journal articles |
| Domestic travel (under $5,000 in a 12-month period from a single entity*) | Grant reviewer for U.S. governmental agencies (any dollar amount) or U.S. non-profit entities (under $5,000 in a 12-month period from a single entity*) |
| Travel paid by U-M or yourself | OWNERSHIP INTEREST |

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY (IP)

- Inventions/IP that have not been optioned, licensed, or reassigned even if there is a patent
- Software apps that are not marketed or sold
- Book Royalties

How often do I have to disclose?

At least annually at the start of the University’s fiscal year (July 1) and within 30 days of a new outside activity or change to a previously reported activity.

What happens with my disclosure?

Your unit reviews your disclosure for compliance with U-M and unit policies and conflicts of commitment (time/effort) with your professional duties. A U-M COI Office may also review your disclosures to determine if conflicts of interest (COI) exist between your outside activity and your U-M research, sponsored projects, or intellectual property. If a COC or COI exists, a management plan may be established.

Will my disclosure be private?

Disclosure information is subject to release outside the U-M under the State of Michigan Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and certain funding agency requirements. Disclosure information may be shared within the U-M, as appropriate.

Who can I contact if I have questions?

Email: COI.Support@umich.edu
